Announcement is made in Ogden that the Union Pacific has inaugurated standard sleeping cars service from Denver to Dallas, Texas.

Detective Pender III—Former Chief of Detectives James Pender has been confined to his home on account of heart prostration suffered while in the east a short time ago. The physician reports that he is improving.

Special Rates—The Short Line, San Pedro and Union Pacific have announced rates for Pioneer day to and from all Utah points. The Chautauqua people are taking advantage of the rates to advertise the features of that day to those living outside the city.

Modern Woodmen of America and Royal Neighbors at Lagoon, Tuesday, July 15. All come. Good time assured. Sports and dancing contest in evening.

Mutuals Have Outing—The members of the Mutual Improvement associations of the Ogden stake are holding their outing in the canyon today. While every car this afternoon carried many to the canyon with picnic baskets, it is expected that many more will take the trip after 6 o'clock. A program of sports has been planned for the afternoon and in the evening there is to be a dance in the grove.

Pay Day—Today is pay day at the Southern Pacific shops. At the signal of the three tools of the whistle, the checks were distributed to the employees.

Porters in a Fight—A. Watt, a colored porter in a barber shop near Twenty-third street and Washington avenue, and David Wilkenson, a porter in a neighboring saloon, were arrested at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon and charged with fighting. According to the arresting officer the two were fighting over an umbrella.

Outing—The Episcopal Sunday school has its annual outing at Lagoon on Tuesday, July 15; the children will go on the 10 a. m. train.

No Extension—S. T. Whitaker, local manager of the Utah Light & Railway company, says he has received no information concerning the extension of the company's interurban system from Bonifant to Ogden.

Omaha Guests—Mrs. C. D. Braun and daughter Grace, and Mrs. Agnes Priess of Omaha, Neb., arrived in Ogden last evening and will remain in the city a number of days, the guests of Miss Annis Brown.

School Gardens—Under the supervision of A. J. Andrews, director of agriculture in the city schools, the vacant lot gardens planted by the school children last spring are still being cared for. Most of the early vegetables have now gone, but the students are cultivating with care the later products in anticipation of the contest to be held shortly after the opening of school in the fall.

Society

UNIVERSITY SOCIETY.
Mrs. D. J. Sheehan will be hostess to the University society at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon at her pleasant home at 2430 Adams avenue.

Mrs. C. W. Cross and little son, Warren, are here from Oakland, Cal., for a few weeks' visit with Mrs. Cross' parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Jones.

MACCABEES' OUTING.
The Knights and Ladies of the Maccabees will hold their annual outing at Lagoon next Tuesday. The arrangement committee have planned for an exceptionally good time and if the weather god favors them the 1913 annual will lack nothing in pleasure not to mention the delectable spread that will be managed by the capable ladies of the order.

Many friends with their families will probably join them and a cordial welcome will be accorded them.

ICE CREAM FESTIVAL.
The W. L. C. Girls of the Baptist church will hold an ice cream festival at the corner of 26th street and Washington avenue, Saturday afternoon and evening.

MARTHA SOCIETY.
A special meeting of the Martha society will be held at the Free Kindergarten and Day nursery on Madison avenue, at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, when important matters concerning the new institution will be reviewed by the ladies and decisions regarding some business affairs will be made.

The Kindergarten and nursery is receiving little tots each day and a cordial welcome is extended, to every working woman's child, by those in charge. No charges are made for the care and instruction given the children during the day and mothers who are occupied away from their homes will find their children safe and happy at the school or nursery when they return to take them home at night. The children are given their lunch at noon and cared for and "mothered" as carefully as they would be in their own home.

MISS BARR ENTERTAINS.
The girls of the B. B. & O. were charmingly entertained at the home of Mrs. Robert Barr, 2267 Moffitt avenue, by Miss Eleanor Barr Wednesday afternoon. A dainty luncheon was served at 5 o'clock. Miss Florence Hoxer assisting. Those present were Misses Flora Hotelling, Gwendolyn Parry, Velma Burke, Florence Hoxer and Eleanor Barr. The out-of-town guests were Misses Nonda and Wanda Jacobs of New York.

Mrs. L. F. Ganske of Milwaukee is visiting her son, C. E. Ganske, and family at 823 26th street.

Let women wage earners wear trousers? Sure! And put the men who won't work for a living in skirts. They deserve it.—Indianapolis News.

BOX CAR THIEF OPERATES IN BROAD DAY

While six railroad employees looked on in astonishment, a bold thief this morning broke into a box car standing on the Union Pacific tracks, near Twenty-eighth street, and removed a barrel of beer. When the man started toward the ice house, probably to secure some ice for his booty, the employees telephoned to the police and Detectives George Wardlaw and Charles Pincock hurried to the scene in the patrol wagon.

When they arrived at the tracks, they found the employees and the barrel of beer but the thief had departed. When asked why they did not hold the fellow, one of the men replied that he did not know they had that authority.

The theft of $30 in money and a watch was reported to the police at 9 o'clock this morning by Greeks, living in a car on the Bamberger siding, near Thirty-fourth street. The intruder had forced in the door during the absence of the occupants and escaped without being seen.

MINER KILLED.
Bingham, Utah, July 11.—One miner was killed and another injured in a cave-in here today at the Utah Apex company's gold mine. While a group of men were working in the mine part of the roof and walls collapsed and the two men were buried beneath the debris.

MOTOR PATROL FOR CITY POLICE

Chief of Police W. I. Norton received a letter today to the effect that the motor patrol for the police department will be shipped July 14. By the time it arrives in Ogden, the garage being built east of the city jail will be ready.

The chief stated today that the newspaper men of the city will be invited to take the first ride in the machine—while the chauffeur is new to the business.

OUTFIELDER IS EXPECTED TODAY

Manager Art Merkle of the Butte team is awaiting the arrival of his new pitcher, MacCreery from Vancouver, who should have arrived last night. He expects, however, that the new twirler will be on the job by tomorrow.

"Kitty" Knight is looking for the arrival of the new outfielder, Feltz. Feltz should arrive from Tacoma this evening.

Merkle selected Kallio and Kafora for his batteries, and expects that Kafora will prove the "jinx" of the Ogden team again today.

Sinclair and Perkins make up the battery for the Ogden team.

Today is Indian day and there were a number of the gentler fans who boarded the Glenwood cars early in the afternoon to see the practice work preliminary to the game.

It is probable that a double header will be played Sunday. During the last series with Butte in Ogden, rain prevented the playing of the sixth game and it is necessary to play that game here.

PATIENTS ARE IMPROVING AT DEE

Mrs. Neils Jensen of Morgan, and Mrs. Clara Scofield of Syracuse have been admitted to the Dee hospital for treatment and Edith Fowler of Ogden, Mrs. Abigail Wilcox of Logan and James King of Clinton have been released.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephens and child are improving and Brophy and Anton are gaining strength.

The condition of Daniel L. Grattan at the hospital took a turn for the worse this afternoon. The patient has been delirious during the day. His condition is reported as serious. It is doubtful if he will survive the night.

CHANGE IN THE SALVATION ARMY

Because of a nervous breakdown, Captain E. S. Thoroughman of the local Salvation Army corps has been compelled to ask for his release from the Ogden post and he will leave Tuesday morning for Coeur d'Alene. Although his successor has been appointed, the name has not been sent to Ogden.

Captain Thoroughman has been in Ogden seven weeks, taking the post vacated by Captain W. H. Knapp. He states that he has found Ogden a delightful city and regrets that he must leave. Through the paper, he wishes to thank the merchants and Rapid Transit company for the interest they took in the outing given the children in the canyon by the local officers of the Army.

A Pennsylvania woman, now 100 years old, has never worn a hat; yet we do not read that her husband ever saved enough to buy an automobile, much less a bank.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Store was crowded

It takes a good many people to "crowd" this store with its spacious aisles—its large departments—but the announcement of the opening of the July Clearing Sales brought crowds of buyers.

Tomorrow will be another busy day. Bargains, such as these, advertise themselves.

GENERAL MANAGER PLAN IS A SUCCESS

S. D. Holsinger.

Enterprising cities of the United States are putting their affairs into the hands of experts. They are hiring "general managers," who know something about business and business methods of running the affairs of a municipality, instead of electing politicians who may either be corrupt or incompetent.

The "general manager" plan was started in Staunton, Va., a town of 12,000 population, five years ago. The city's first and only general manager is S. D. Holsinger, who has been remarkably successful in running the affairs of the city and keeping expenses down.

SEA LIONS AND SALMON.
The salmon fishers of Oregon complain that every sea lion eats up 500 pounds of salmon a day. They have little sympathy with the nature lovers who would protect the sea lions from extermination, and, discouraged with the results in shooting them singly by rifle, the Oregon authorities will blow them up by whole beachfuls with high explosives.

One of the most charming of the always delicious essays by Professor Dallas Lore Sharp in a recent number of the Atlantic describes his visit to the Three-Arch reservation off the coast of Oregon, where the sea lions and many varieties of sea fowl propagate in security under the aegis of the United States of America, while the salmon fishermen, and even the government custodian at the Three-Arch rocks, grumble at the nation for preserving the sea lions for no purpose that they can recognize except to reduce the salmon catch.

From Higham, Mass., to the Three-Arch rocks is a distance not to be measured by miles, says the professor. "Instead of miles it was zones, ages, worlds that were traveled as I passed into this haunt of wild sea fowl and beast. Here was the primeval world, the fresh and unaffrighted morning of the fifth day." He is not insensible to the salmon fisher's point of view. He might see no good and sufficient reason for protecting sea lions "were I an Astoria fisherman with the sea lions pursuing the salmon into my nets, as they occasionally do." With gentle cynicism he says: "It is easy in Boston to believe in sea lions in Astoria. It is hard anywhere not to believe in canned salmon." Yet he makes an earnest plea for the salvation of something of wild nature from industrialism.

HE'S SON-IN-LAW OF CANAL ZONE HEAD

(C) Harris & Ewing.

Charles R. Barton, who has just assumed his duties as congressman from the Fifth district of Nebraska, is the son-in-law of Richard L. Metcalfe, the new governor of the Panama canal zone, but unlike his father-in-law is a Republican. Before his election to congress he was a prominent labor leader and was grand recorder of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of Nebraska. He was also auditor for the state of Nebraska. He is forty-one years old and married Miss Metcalfe a few years ago in Lincoln, where her father was editor of Mr. Bryan's "Commoner."
